Sustainability for people

envisaging multi disciplinary solutions

Faculty of Architecture Research Unit (FARU) of University of Moratuwa, Sri Lanka is organizing the 11th FARU International Research Conference on Sustainability for people focused on envisaging multi disciplinary solutions.

It is scheduled in Colombo between 07th - 8th December 2018. The conference will provide a forum for researchers, academics, practitioners and students in the areas of architecture, built environment, planning, building economics and integrated design. Authors are invited to submit abstracts written in English within 300 words in areas related to the theme and sub themes of the conference.

Conference Theme

Sustainability for people - envisaging multi disciplinary solutions

Sustainability expands to a wide spectrum of envisaging to the basic and modern needs of people. It should be addressed through multi disciplinary approaches across built environment, construction industry, urban planning and design for people. FARU 2018 opens up the platform to discuss this through multi-disciplinary solutions.

FARU invites research papers on the following sub themes:

- Built environment for people
- Construction industry for people
- Urban planning for people
- Design for people

Accepted conference proceedings will be published online after the conference.

Paper proposals shall be sent in the form of electronic version by logging to the conference website <https://www.mrt.ac.lk/web/foa/faru/conference> or email to faru@uom.lk
